The screenshot shows the Schoology user profile dropdown menu. At the top, the user's name "Nina Taylor" is circled in red. Below the name, there is a list of accounts. The first account, "Nina Taylor" from "Schoology Academy", has a checkmark in a red circle next to it. A red line points from the text "This is your account" to this account. The second account, "Tina Taylor" from "Schoology Academy", has a red dashed line pointing from the text "This is your child's account activity". The third and fourth accounts, "Nina Taylor" and "Thomas Taylor" from "The Jeffersonian School of Arts and Sci...", have red dashed lines pointing from the text "If you have multiple accounts for children in different schools, you'll see linked accounts here". Below the list of accounts is a "+ Add Child" button. At the bottom of the dropdown menu are links for "Schoolology Academy", "Notifications", "Account Settings", "Privacy", "Recycle Bin", and "Logout". A red line points from the text "This is the school associated with your account" to the "Schoolology Academy" link.
